5 O'clock Edition! NEWS FROM CHILI.

A Large Number of Executions.

JEWISH PERSECUTION IN RUSSIA.

A Village Wiped Out by Prairie Fires.

Fatal Railroad Collision Near Glenwood, Minnesota.

News from Chili.

PARANA, Oct. 27.—The latest from Lima, concerning the provinces held by Chili, is that Senora Rosa Vayan, the widow of Correa, and many of the principal ladies of Lima determined to raise funds for the ransom of the Peruvian provinces taken by Chili in the late international war.

Chilian advisers say the news concerning the murder of Manuel Maria Aldunate and his companion, Catholico Villota, is confirmed.

The different political parties that initiated the revolution are making a draw of the program that is to be observed by the new administration and that they will sign, compromising themselves to respect it, no matter who gains the Presidential election. This program does not tend to provide a new system of administration; it merely establishes the general principles that are based on liberty, and are now to be observed by the new political organization, and these principles are the right of suffrage, punishment of any government officials who should interfere in the election, the absolute independence of their chief authorities of the nation, submission to the resolution of the Chambers, responsibility of the President and their Ministers, reduction of the ordinary expenses, mortification of the foreign debt, conversion of national paper currency into metallic currency, reduction of the army, augmentation of the fleet, suppression of unnecessary employment, steady development of railroads, amicable relations with all other nations, limitation of diplomatic service, and the establishment of commercial treaty with different nations.

Commercial affairs in Iquique and in all other ports in the northern part of Chili are in a peculiar condition at the present time.

The daring revolution ports in the south of Chili were closed against those in the north and no products of any kind has been received here from the south. Consequently large cargoes, principally of hay and flour were imported here from San Francisco and other foreign ports. More of these articles were received here than could be consumed at the time, and merchants of Iquique and Fagasta and other northern points now have large stocks on hand which they are unable to dispose of. They will suffer heavy losses.

Unfavorable Showing.

BERLIN, Oct. 27.—It is reported that Major Wissman resigned his position in East Africa because Baron Soden forbade him to transport a steamer to Victoria Nyassae.

The balance sheet of the East Africa Company makes a very unfavorable showing. A loss of 100,000 marks arose from the Zanzibar agreement with England. Total deficit, 200,000 marks.

Jews Killed.

VIENNA, Oct. 27.—A dispatch from Russia tells of anti-Jewish riots in various places. In Tchernigoff fifty Jews were killed and a hundred wounded. The forests are full of Jewish refugees dying of starvation. The Czar sent a commission to inquire into the facts.

Parnell Eulogized.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—John Morley, Member of Parliament, in a speech at Manchester last evening eulogized Parnell. He spoke of the departed leader as a powerful and extraordinary personality. Morley then proceeded to criticize Chamberlain's speech.

Beats the Record.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—The White Star Line steamer Teutonic, which sailed from New York October 21st for Liverpool, was sighted off Broadhead at 9:25 o'clock this morning. She has beaten the fastest previous record from New York.

Cyclone in Ohio.

CONNEAUT (O.), Oct. 27.—At 6:30 last evening a cyclone swept over this town, destroying about twenty houses. Streets were blocked by trees and debris from demolished buildings. A large butter tub factory owned by G. J. Record was badly wrecked, a thousand dollars' worth of stock being completely destroyed. Record's loss was about $50,000. The planing mill adjoining Record's was greatly damaged. His lumber yard was strewn all over the town and two smokstacks were blown down. Many fine residences suffered heavily, roofs being torn off and windows broken. The telegraph lines of the Lake Shore and Nickel Plate railways were down. Two telegraph poles were blown through the roof of the Lake Shore depot and the baggage room was completely destroyed. The debris from buildings was strewn along the track, rendering it impassable for moving trains. The total loss is about $100,000.

Prairie Fires.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 27.—A dispatch from Guthrie, O. T., giving further particulars of the prairie fires, says: In the Iowa reservation, where the grass is heavy, the damage is great. The district burned is ten miles wide and fifty miles long. It is reported here that several persons have perished.

Another fire started in the rank grass along the Cimarron river, thirty miles northwest of here, Saturday night and burned fifty farm houses and much live stock. A number of people are missing, and it is almost certain that some died in the flames. The village of Cimarron was completely wiped out and many inhabitants were badly burned. They saved their lives by jumping into the river. The mail carried from Mulhall was caught and totally burned. Reports from the burned districts are as yet very meagre, but the damage is well up toward $100,000.

Horrible Collision.

GLENWOOD, (Minn.), Oct. 27.—A rear-end collision occurred last night at Thompson Station, eight miles east of here, between the regular west bound freight and an extra following. The regular train was switching at the time the accident occurred. The extra came at full speed, completely telescoping the caboose of the regular, killing five persons and seriously wounding seven others. The dead are: O. E. Holmes, traveling salesman for Seaburg & Co., St. Paul; Fred Kenn, Conrad Prince, Brazil Lyle and John Coffin of Monticello, Minn. Physicians were hurriedly brought, who cared for the wounded. Holmes body was torn to pieces, and Fred Kenn was roasted to death. It is reported that the Company caused the arrest of conductor Woodson and engineer Smith; of the extra, the blame appearing to rest with them.

Palo Alto Beats His Record.

STOCKTON, Oct. 27.—Palo Alto, the old hero of the Stanford stables, beat his record to-day, trotting a mile in 2:10 flat. He made the quarters in 32, 34, 33 and 33 1/2. It was a game race against father time from start to finish, and the old campaigner did not make a skip in the entire mile. When he went the quarter in 32 seconds horsemen said the pace was too fast, and when he reached the half in 1:03 1/2 they said he could not keep his feet; but Palo Alto was out to-day to beat all his efforts and went at this surprising gait throughout the mile without even a touch of Marvin's whip. Expert horsemen contend that Palo Alto will beat the world's stallion record of 2:09 1/2 held by Allerton. They will send him again in a few days if the weather holds good.

Number of Executions.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—A letter from Iquique, Chili, dated Sept. 14th says: The reports received from the south, state that a large number of executions have occurred in Santiago and Valparaiso in the last few weeks. The victims are people who have been particularly active in their opposition to the revolutionists, but none of them are persons of any special prominence.

A Decision Rendered.

ALBANY (N. Y.), Oct. 27.—The Court of Appeals rendered a decision this morning in the case of George H. Tilden vs. Andrew H. Green and others, as executors, etc. of the appellants, and Laura B. Hazard, et al. respondents, affirming the judgment with costs payable to all parties out of the estate. This renders the Tilden trust void, and is in favor of the heirs.

Tug of War Contest.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—In the tug of war contest last night Germany defeated England and Denmark defeated Canada. In the hour struggle America defeated Sweden, Norway defeated Italy and Scotland defeated Ireland.

The Tilden Will.

ALBANY (N. Y.), Oct. 27.—The Court of Appeals has decided the Tilden will void.

Under the statute of distribution that regulates the inheritance of the property, the issue of Mrs. Pelton and Henry A. Tilden, sister and brother of Governor Tilden, comes in for an equal share of the eight million dollars. Mrs. Wm. B. Hazard is the only heir on Pelton's side, and thus she is entitled to four million dollars. The other four million is subject to the claims of the six children of Henry Tilden. They are George H. Tilden, S. J. Tilden, Jr., Mrs. Wm. B. Whitteley, Mrs. Swan, a widow who lives in New Lebanon, Mrs. Willis A. Payne and Mrs. John Schwartz of New York City.

Judge Brown, in his opinion, says in substance that unless within the rules which control the courts in the construction of wills, we can separate the provision in reference to the Tilden trust from a general direction as to the disposition of the testator's residuary estate, contained in the last clause of the thirty-fifth article, and find therein that a preferential right to some or all of such estate was given to that institution when it incorporated, and one which the court at suit said the institution could enforce within the two lives, which limit of trust we must, within the principle of similar cases, declare such provision of the will invalid.

There is no discretion to be exercised upon the question whether the property shall go to charitable purposes. The discretion there is as to the general objects of the charity, but there is none as to the disposition of the estate. The object and purpose of the testator is the devotion of his estate to charity.

The Judge goes on to say that the Tilden trust does not represent any alteration or primary purpose in the disposition of the estate, but it is simply suggested as an instrument to execute the testator's scheme for the disposition of the property. The Tilden trust takes nothing by virtue of the will. The residuary estate is vested in the trustees, and it is solely by their action that it is to become vested in the Tilden trust. Every expression used in the will indicates the bestowal of a complete discretionary power to convey or not to convey, and the creation and bestowal of such power in the executors is wholly opposed to and fatal to the existence of the executory devise.

Cabinet Meeting.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—The Cabinet meeting to-day was attended by all the members except Secretary Foster. It is supposed the session was mainly devoted to the discussion of the Chilean situation.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

The health of Mrs. Parnell, widow of the late Charles Stewart Parnell, now shows some slight signs of improvement. She is now able to partake of food.

The President of Brazil has asked from the Congress that Republic an appropriation of $500,000 to pay the expense of its representation at the Chicago Exposition.

THE MARKET.

How Charles Cramer Finds It in California.

Charles Cramer of Shumway, Lassen county, returned from Sacramento last night, where he went with 400 head of beef that he drove overland to Marysville, where he disposed of half of them and shipped the balance to San Francisco. Mr. Cramer says he found the California market dull and unsatisfactory and thinks if the cattle-men on this side of the mountains who have beef to sell would form a trust to handle it that they would realize fully one cent per pound more and that such a way of handling the product would be much more satisfactory. The GAZETTE has always advocated the same idea, and it is the only thing that will bring the San Francisco butchers to the scratch.

Woolen Sheep.

W. U. Scott is separating 2,500 mutton sheep and lambs from a large band at the stockyards on the hill north of town to-day. Mr. Scott has sold the band to M. C. Morris, who will pasture them at the ranch of James Mayberry until snow flies when they will be shipped to San Francisco for mutton. Mr. Scott will receive 5,000 more from the north during the week.

Real Estate Transactions.

J. M. Fulton bought last night of C. C. Powning a lot in Powning's addition, facing the river. Consideration, $250.

C. C. Powning sold his pretty little cottage on lots 8 and 9, block C, on Second street, in Powning's addition, to W. M. Van Buren yesterday. Consideration, $3,000. Mr. Powning will immediately put up another.

Butter Quotations.

Butter is quoted in San Francisco as follows: Fresh roll, top price, 35c; fresh roll, good to choice, 30 to 32 1/2c; fresh roll, fair to good, 20 to 27c; pickled roll, fancy, 25 to 28 1/2c; pickled roll, good to choice, 22 to 24c; firkin, good to choice, 19 to 21c; eastern, creamery, 24 to 27c.

RED HOT IN IRELAND.

O'Brien Received by a Brass Band.

HIS ADHERENTS ARE MOBBED.

Mexico Will Remove the Duty on Corn.

Russia Prohibits Relief to the Starving Peasants.

Received by a Brass Band.

CORR, Oct. 27.—Messrs. William O'Brien and Dillon, arrived here to-day. The two distinguished Members of Parliament were met by a detachment and an enormous crowd of people. The procession was headed by a brass band and escorted by a strong detachment of police. There was no disturbance. O'Brien, during his speech at the Assembly rooms, said "he was willing to give fair play to his opponents, but added he would not yield to brickbats and dynamite bombs."

Continuing, O'Brien said "they (Parnellites) might blow up the office of the newspaper representing the views of McCarthyites, but he exclaimed, they cannot destroy the spirit which animated that party." As soon as the convention closed its proceedings Dillon and O'Brien passed through the city, still accompanied by the procession which met them at the railroad station. Suddenly the McCarthyites were attacked by a large mob of Parnellites, and both sides fought desperately with sticks, clubs, shovels and pikes. A detachment of mounted police was sent for and they spurred their horses in between the two lines of combatants, striking right and left with the flat of their sabres amid the two crossing showers of stones and bricks. A large number were wounded and stretched bleeding and groaning in the streets before the troops restored order. The neighboring hospital had to find accommodations for many wounded persons by the time hostilities had suspended. There is great excitement everywhere in Cork this evening. The antagonistic groups, it is feared will reassemble, and there is danger of the battle between them being resumed.

Floods in England.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—The floods are still doing much damage in various parts of England. A long railroad cutting near Maidstone, Kent, undermined by the floods, collapsed to-day, completely blocking railroad lines. Additional details of disasters afloat, from the terrific gales which have prevailed along the coasts recently, continue to be received. A Yarmouth fishing lugger, with her entire crew foundered in the gale.

The Boodle Cases.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—Another meeting of the Grand Jury was held this afternoon, when the investigation of the legislative boodle cases was taken up. The first one was the senatorial combine, and one after another of the State Senators subpoenaed about two weeks ago were examined. Stephen Gage and Dick Chute will be called upon to testify regarding the case.

Died While Eating.

MERCED (Cal.), Oct. 27.—Pink Dodson, an old resident of Mariposa county, aged about sixty years, was found dead by the roadside, near White Rock yesterday. He apparently sat down near a spring to eat lunch, and died while eating.

BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS.

The County State of Taxation Reduced Five Per Cent.

The Board of County Commissioners this afternoon reduced the tax rate for county purposes five cents on the $100, making the rate $1.65 for State and county purposes instead of $1.70. This makes the county tax 90 cents instead of 95. Under the rate as now fixed by the Commissioners the taxpayers will have to pay about $2,500 more into the County Treasury than they did last year.

They Reduced the Special Verdi School Tax from 60 cents to 50 cents.

It was also ordered that the Clerk advertise for bids for the construction of a cistern on the plaza in front of the courthouse, said cistern to be 20 feet in circumference and 10 feet deep, and laid in cement, in accordance with the specifications on file in the Clerk's office. The advertisement will appear in to-morrow night's GAZETTE.

Considered Dead.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—On October 19th a man dropped dead near the entrance of the Golden Gate Park. The body was removed to the Morgue, where hundreds of people viewed the remains. At last a woman giving the name of Estelle Pons looked at the body, shed a few tears and said it was her divorced husband, and had the remains buried. During all this time the real Mr. Pons, who was ignorant of the proceedings, and who is the complete image of the dead man, was in the city working at his business as an expert cook in the South Pacific Restaurant, in the California market. To-day he turned up, and in an interview with the Morgue officials, said he was tired of being considered a dead man.

Kept in Irons Fifty-one Days.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—Harry Mann, a sailor on the whaling schooner E. T. Herriman, which arrived from Kodiak Saturday, complains that a companion named Jim and himself were kept in irons for fifty-one days by Captain Fish on a charge of mutiny. Mann claims that the captain ordered the vessel under way, with the apparent intention of deserting a small boat's crew who were in pursuit of a whale, and he (Mann) and companion were chosen as spokesmen for the crew of the bark to protest against the action. The abandoned seamen were picked up by the Kush.

Famine in Mexico.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 27.—A special from the City of Mexico states that there is a well founded rumor that the duty on corn will at once be removed, owing to the shortness of crop and the famine prevailing in several States of the Republic.

Reports from the flooded districts of Chiapas state that hundreds of people are on the verge of starvation. Governor Guanahtla has prohibited the export of corn from the State, and other Governors will soon follow his example.

Tuesday, October 27, 1891

A WEEK from next Tuesday elections will take place in New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts and Iowa. In Ohio a Legislature is to be elected, which will choose a successor to Senator Sherman, in each of the five States a Governor is to be elected, and in each the incumbent is a Democrat. If the Republicans do not win back four of the five States they will be disappointed. All five are necessary under any ordinary estimate of results of the national election of 1892 to elect a Republican President. But if the Republicans recover Ohio, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts they will enter next year's contest sanguine of success. In Ohio and Massachusetts the canvass is being made on national issues. The Democrats in both States are made to defend free trade, and in Ohio free coinage of silver. It may be said also that as a rule the more national the issues the more likely the Republicans are to win. There is not a Northern State that on a square issue of protection against free trade would not vote for protection. Pennsylvania is so thoroughly Republican that no apprehension is felt as to the result this year. Pittsburg succeeded last year by the operation of a cause not in existence this year. Of course if the Republicans should carry New York and Iowa as well as the other three States, which they expect to carry, they would look upon the battle of 1892 as half won. While the chances probably favor the election of the Democratic candidate for Governor in New York, such a result is by no means a foregone conclusion. The Boston Herald, whose sympathies are not permitted to warp its judgment, says that owing to the Democratic defections the election of the Republican candidates in whole or in part seems not at all improbable. In Iowa State issues are so absorbing that the result this year can hardly be considered as indicating the vote of the State in a Presidential year. People are talking of railroad taxation and financial schemes which are not indorced by either party platform. Correspondents on the ground can only guess at the result.

The gold standard has not made everyone rich and happy in Germany; it has not served to fill those States with either food or money, as shown by the following which we clip from a special to the Chicago Tribune from the capital of the German Empire, which says:

Experiments of the production of cheap bread, made necessary by the prevailing high prices, are increasing. Corn, barley, oats, buckwheat, peas, beans and potatoes have been tried, discarded and retired several times; and more or less success has attended the experiments. Across were the last objects that have been tested, and it was felt they might answer the purpose, but they have now been entirely discarded, and the only refuge at the present moment seems to lie in corn, which may of the papers are advocating and urging the people to import in quantities from the United States in order to give it a thorough trial.

The prevailing distress in Saxony is illustrated in a way that admits of no mistake. It is shown in the fact that a thousand citizens who voted at the last election have been stricken down by the election list, as they were unable to pay the minimum tax imposed by the State, which must always be forthcoming before an elector can cast his ballot. This minimum tax is three marks, and indicates that the person taxed has an income of not less than 600 marks per annum. Even this low figure is sufficiently high to deprive more than half of the workmen of Saxony of the right of voting.

There is talk that the railroads are going to contest the right of the Board of Assessors and Equalization to make the horizontal raise made throughout the several counties in this State apply to them after the State Board had assessed them. Let us all pay or not monkey with the music. If the railroads insist on being let off from the horizontal raise, let the other taxpayers get together and contest the constitutionality of the law as a whole. This making flesh of one and fowl of another may be good for the railroads, but it is death to the rest of us. If the railroads are going to enter the race to avoid paying their just proportion of taxes, let us all enter. We are but a small taxpayer, but will contribute our proportion to a fund to contest the law. If the small taxpayer has got to contribute nearly the entire expense of running the State and county governments, the sooner it is found out the better.

A MODEL CLERK.

An Old Lady Tried His Soul, But He Kept on Smiling.

So much is said about the snappishness and impudence of the clerks in big dry-goods stores that when one is found that cannot be made cross by any combination of circumstances he is certainly to have the benefit of it. The fact being heralded abroad, even if for obvious reasons neither his name nor the name of the store which is so fortunate as to have his services can be given. The store is, however, on Broadway, and the clerk is the model of a clerk in the whole retail dry-goods district, so it may not be a hard matter for shoppers to identify him.

It was on the very hottest day of July that this clerk was put to his severest test, relates the New York Times. An old lady from the country had, with an immoderate amount of trouble, succeeded in making a somewhat extensive purchase of linen for her table. To pass over the preliminary incidents of the shuffling of about all the tablecloths and towels and traycloths in stock before the purchase was made, the real trouble came with the payment. The old lady had put on the counter the contents of a small handbag. The contents were linen and five-cent pieces, and there was a big heap of them. The purchase came to just under twenty dollars. After counting it over twice the clerk had to charter two extra trains on the cash railway in order to get the money to the cashier's desk.

The old lady gave directions for the doing up of her package and then started for the door. She stopped to think, and came back again. She said that the napkins she had picked out were too coarse after all, and she believed that she would take the finer ones. The bundle was sent for and the change was made. More dimes and five-cent pieces were dumped down before the still smiling clerk.

Once more the old lady started for the door, and once more she came back. She thought that she would like to look at the tablecloths that she had bought. The clerk laid out her package before her, but she decided not to make any change in the tablecloths, and started away again. But she came back once more and had the traycloths changed, and the clerk had to fix the bill again. There did not seem to be anything more that she could want changed, and the clerk sent the bundle upstairs.

In ten minutes the troublesome buyer was back again. This time she wanted a package of New York newspapers to be done up with her bundle. The clerk took them with a gracious remark that it would not be the least trouble in the world to have them put up with her package, and then he gave his attention to another customer as if this had not been an incident worthy of notice.

Of course stories might be told of clerks much more accommodating than this one, but they possibly might not have the advantage which this has of being strictly true.

RED TAPE IN ENGLAND.

Breaking a Chair in Pieces to Secure Official Recognition.

A good many years ago, says a writer in the London Speaker, a certain young clerk who had been fortunate enough to secure a stool in one of the great public offices of her majesty the queen, was startled out of his sense of propriety by a spectacle which he witnessed in the official apartment in which he was serving the state. He has grown gray since then in the public service, and honors have accumulated upon him; but to this day he remembers with something like a thrill of horror the astounding scene which in his verdant youth first opened his eyes to the realities of the civil service. This was what he beheld. An elderly gentleman, who was one of the senior clerks in the room in which his young friend was the junior, suddenly rose from his desk, dragged the comfortable chair upon which he had been sitting into the middle of the room, seized a poker, and, attacking the chair with a vigor worthy of an abled-bodied Englishman, succeeded in breaking one of its legs.

The chair was in excellent condition, so the task was not an easy one. When it was accomplished, the senior clerk gave a sigh of relief and flinging the chair into a corner of the room, returned calmly to his desk and his pen. Our young friend's first idea was that Mr. X. had suddenly taken leave of his senses, and he had expected at the first moment of his attack upon the chair that his colleagues would forthwith put some restraint upon him. But to his amazement, the other clerks in the room hardly raised their eyes from their desks whilst the work of destruction was in progress. It was clear that they understood all about it, and were by no means moved by the performance of their chief. That afternoon, when the office work was at an end, our young friend timidly approached one of his fellow-clerks and questioned him. "Can you tell me," he asked, "why Mr. X. behaved in that extraordinary way this morning; I mean when he deliberately broke a perfectly sound leg off the chair in which he had been sitting?" "Oh," replied the other with a shrug of the shoulders, "that was all right. A castor had come off one of the legs of his chair, and you know, 'my lords' won't provide new castors; they will attend to nothing less than a broken leg. So X. had to break a leg in order to get his chair put right again at the public expense."

An Untutored Savage.

The Cheyenne League tells a pleasant story of two Arapahoe Indians who were on their way from the Snake agency to the Arapahoe reservation in the Indian territory. Their names were Shakespeare (who is educated, having spent several years at the Carlisle school) and White Antelope, who is a genuine son of the forest, wild and untutored and frightened at every evidence of civilization. The two arrived at Rawlins just as a Union Pacific train came rolling into the station. The engine was too much for White Antelope, who broke away with a war-whoop and ran for the prairie. He was finally captured, the fact explained that the locomotive was neither the evil spirit nor one of his numerous agents, and he was induced to continue on his journey.

Old People.

J. V. S. is the only Sarsaparilla that old feeble people should take, as the mineral potash which is in every other Sarsaparilla that we know of, is under certain conditions known to be enervating. J. V. S. on the contrary is purely vegetable and stimulates digestion and creates new blood, the very thing the old delicate or broken down people need to build them up and prolong their lives. A case in point:

Mrs. Belden an estimable and elderly lady of 810 Mason St., S. F. was for months declining so rapidly as to seriously alarm her family. It got so bad that she was finally afflicted with fainting spells. She writes: "While in that dangerous condition I saw some of the testimonials concerning J. V. S. and sent for a bottle. That marked the turning point. I regained my lost flesh and strength and have not felt so well in years." That was two years ago and Mrs. Belden is well and hearty to-day, and still taking J. V. S.

BUILDING COMPLETED.

The University Adding New Features to Its Usefulness Every Month.

The laboratory building at the University, which has been in course of construction for several months past, is now completed. It cost the State about $6,000 and is another addition to that excellent institution that should prove of great value to the young men of the State who are anxious to pursue a mining course. A fine structure has also been recently put up to accommodate students who wish to take a course in practical mechanics. It will be fitted up with all kinds of tools necessary to practical study and be of immense advantage to the young men who want a good all-round education.

Will Return.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 19, 1891. EDITOR GAZETTE: I hear that a great many there have an idea that I am not to return to Reno when I am through with my studies here. Now please contradict this, as I fully intend to return to Reno in April, if I live until that time, all other things to the contrary. And I fully recommend Dr. Rulison to the good people there. He will attend to all the business at the office as faithfully as I would myself if I were there. By doing this you will greatly oblige me and my friends. I am truly yours, MAYO A. GREENLAW.

JOTTINGS.

It would be hard to find a finer display of beautiful goods than Richard Hays shows.

If you want to find him go to Jake Becker's any time between 12 and 2 o'clock and he'll be there eating lunch. Why don't Alken bring that wood I ordered. He has the call and my children will freeze unless he gets around soon.

The Ladies Delighted.

The pleasant effect and the perfect safety with which one may use the liquid fruit laxative, Syrup of Figs, under all conditions, make it their favorite remedy. It is pleasant to the eye and to the taste, gentle, yet effectual in acting on the kidneys, liver and bowels.

Are Your Children Subject to Croup?

As a preventive and cure for croup, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has no rival. It is, in fact, the only remedy that can always be depended upon and that is pleasant and safe to take. There is not the least danger in giving it to children, as it contains no injurious substance. For sale at 50 cents per bottle by J. B. McCullough, Druggist.

A Word to Ladies.

Ladies who desire a beautiful clear skin, free from pimples, blotches and other eruptions, should commence at once to use Dr. Gunn's Improved Liver Pills. They will also remove that heavy look about your eyes and make them bright and will cure headache from whatever cause it arises. Remember you are only required to take one small pill at bed time, which is coated with pure sugar, and will not grip or produce any unpleasant sensation. Sold at 25 cents by S. J. Hodgkinson.

BUTTER BY THE TON.

Operations of the Largest Creamery in the World.

The GAZETTE publishes an article taken from the Burlington Free Press to show the importance of the butter-making industry at the East by the creamery process:

Ten thousand pounds of butter daily. This is the wholesale way in which the largest creamery in the world turns out the golden product that melts with delicious flavor on your hot tea biscuits.

Within a radius of twenty-six miles from St. Albans, Vt., are forty-four separator stations, where the dairy farmer leaves his milk for the Franklin County Creamery Association. After the cream is separated from the milk it is shipped by rail in special cars to the creamery at St. Albans, and by undergoing various interesting processes is transformed into butter.

The building is three stories high, with about 9,000 square feet of floor surface, situated on the main line of the Central Vermont Railroad. In the cellar are a 40-horse-power engine, boiler room and tanks for buttermilk. The first floor is devoted to receiving, separating the cream, churning, working, packing and whipping. In the second story are the cream room, with ten large tanks holding 600 gallons of cream apiece; testing room, offices and living rooms of the help. The third story is given over to strong tubs, salt, boxes, etc. The association is a joint stock company, with a capital of $100,000. It was organized in October, 1890, and commenced operations in November. When the cream reaches the creamery it goes into a receiving tank on the first floor; from there it is pumped into storage vats in the second story, where it is "cured." Then it is ready for the churn, and is sent through a pipe into the churning room, where ten square-box Blanchard churns are almost constantly at work. Each assistant make about 150 tests a day, following the method recommended by the Vermont experiment station. To show the accuracy of these tests, Mr. Claffin instanced a special one recently made, where the test indicated that a certain amount of milk would make 47.7 pounds of butter. It made exactly 47.8 pounds. When the percentage of butter fat in a farmer's herd is determined, he is credited with a number of pounds of milk of such richness. Figures talk, and a few statistics will speak most eloquently of the mammoth proportions of the Franklin County Creamery Association.

The milk of 12,000 cows is made into butter at this creamery; 10,000 pounds of butter is the average daily product; it takes 400 tubs to hold this product; a carload of salt is used every two months; 60 hands are employed by the association. "The only trouble we have had thus far," said Mr. Deal, the manager, "is to make enough butter to fill our orders. Butter buyers tell us that the more we can ship them the better. We now take milk from about 700 farmers, and are gaining right along. Last month we gained 130 farmer patrons, and hope soon to reach our capacity of making 20,000 pounds of butter a day."

THE STOCK INDUSTRY.

Changes That Have Taken Place During the Last Decade.

The following bulletin was sent out from the department at Washington. It shows that since 1880 great changes have taken place in the industry of cattle.

Large areas once used as ranges are now enclosed as farms, and cattle are driven to new and distant feeding grounds. A large part of Texas, Colorado, Oregon, Washington and California, one-third of Kansas and one-half of Nebraska have been converted into farms in the last decade. Owing to the difficulty in exactly defining the lines of range and farm stock, and to avoid duplication, only stock known to be outside of farm stock are included in this bulletin. It found that in

NEW GOVERNMENT BUILDING AT CARSON, NEVADA.

June, 1890, upon the ranges were 517,218 horses, 5,433 mules, 14,109 asses or burros, 6,828,182 cattle, 9,678,902 sheep, and 17,278 swine, with sales of horses in 1889 amounting in value to $1,418,205; of cattle, $17,913,714; of sheep, $2,669,663; and of swine, $27,132. The total number of men reported on the ranges in care of the stock, 15,393. The industry is found to be more generally prosperous at this time than for several years previously.

A PROSPEROUS SECTION.

The Farmers of Surprise Valley Moving Their Grain Crop.

F. O. Monchamp and M. Q. Morgan came in from Surprise Valley yesterday with 30,000 pounds of wheat, which was sold here. They will load their teams back with the machinery for a complete roller process flour mill. Surprise Valley is fast coming to the front as one of the largest flour-producing sections this side of the mountains and the farmers of that prosperous section are getting into the swim with every product raised in that section. Mr. Monchamp informs a Gazette reporter that there are fully 40 teams constantly on the road between Surprise Valley and Amodeo loaded with grain. These teams run from four horses up to ten animals and will take all winter to move the last year's grain crop. They find a ready cash market at Amodeo for wheat at $1.40 per one hundred pounds.

French Tanny Wafers.

Merit Wins.

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's Life Pills, Bucklin's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merit. Wm. Pinniger, druggist.
